UNIT PROFILES

Every unit contained within the Warbits simulation is unique and belongs to one of three classes. These classes determine what the units are effective against in combat.

INFANTRY: Inexpensive ground units with light armor. Capable of capturing neutral and enemy structures.

MECH: Armored ground units with larger movement ranges. This class has the widest range of abilities.

AIR: Air units have the ability to ignore terrain movement costs.

MOVEMENT:

Moving is pretty cool, you should try it sometime.

① Tap a unit to activate.

② Tap an available tile to form a path.

③ Tap again to confirm and move.

CAPTURING:

All Structures have 20 Capture Points. Infantry units at full health can reduce 10 Capture Points a day. Once the City is at 0, it's all yours!

Place Infantry on top of structures to start capturing.

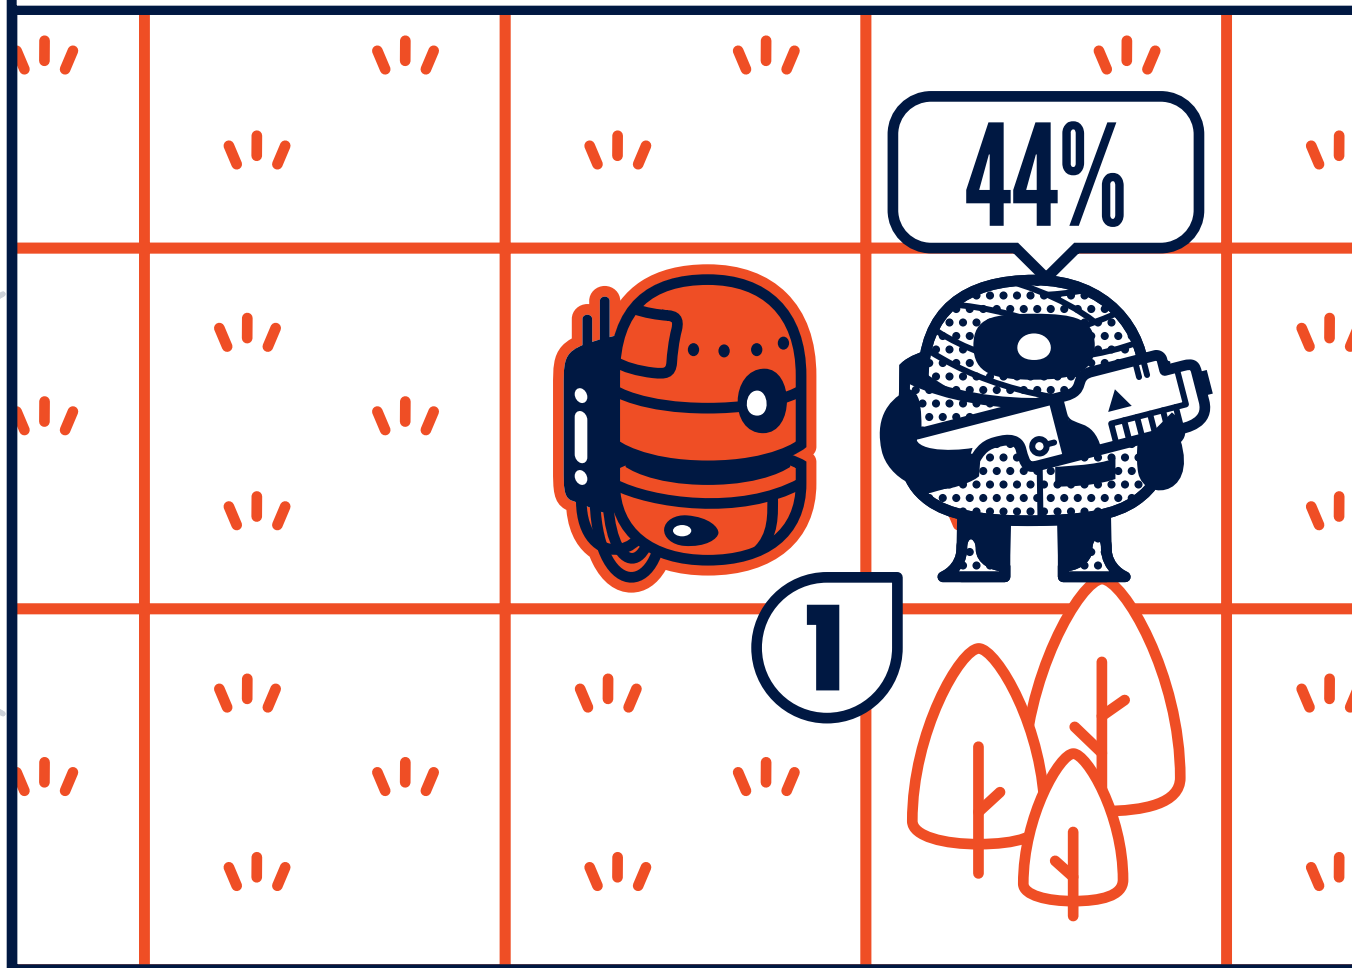

1 To continue a Capture in progress tap the Capture button.

DIRECT COMBAT:

Combat units potential attack power is based on their current health. Defending units will be able to counter attack if possible so it's important to strike first!

① Tap an adjacent enemy to display attack percentage.

② Tap again to attack.

COMBAT TIP:

Instead of moving and attacking in two steps, you can string these actions together to save precious space seconds.

① Tap empty tile adjacent to enemy.

② Tap enemy.

③ Tap again to move and attack.

RANGED COMBAT:

Ranged combat units have the unique ability to attack from a distance, avoiding a counter attack.

Ranged units can only move OR attack.

Ranged units can only attack units within their Range.

WIN CONDITIONS:

There are two possible ways to win (and lose) in the Warbits battle simulator.

Via Capture: Capturing an enemy's HQ.

Via Combat: Destroying all of an enemy's currently deployed units.

APC RESUPPLY:

Units use gas and ammo during movement and combat. It's important to keep them supplied in combat simulations.

Move APC next to friendly unit to resupply.

OR: Move friendly units next to an APC.

TIP: Load an APC in a Carrier to create an airborne resupply unit.

JOINING

Joining units can be helpful when there are multiple injured units. A joined unit's health can not exceed 10HP.

You can Join two injured units as long as they are the same unit type.

Joining units will combine their health as well as gas and ammo.

TRANSPORTS:

Transports are helpful for covering more ground quickly, as well as navigating terrain that would otherwise be impossible to traverse.

① Move unit on top of transport to enter.

② Tap Unload to view drop-zones.

TRANSPORTS:

Units can only board transports that are over terrain they can traverse. Be careful where you deploy your troops or they might get stuck!

① Tap a drop-zone to Unload the unit.

TIP: Let units inside rest for one day in order to use them after unloading.

BUILDING UNITS:

Factories and Airports can use your current funds to deploy additional units to the battlefield. Don't spend it all in one place!

Tap on a Factory or Airport to build units.

- 1 Select a unit on the list to view details.
- 2 Tap again to purchase.

This form of currency can be earned by destroying enemy units or full reactors.

The number of charges you get from enemy units is based on their build cost.

Full reactors yield 5 charges while empty reactors contain none.

SPECIAL POWERS:

The charges you collect during battle can be used to purchase special powers that alter the game. You can only have one power active at a time so choose wisely!

Tap on your HQ to access the power shop.

- 2 Tap again to purchase.

INFORMATION:

Viewing detailed information on units and terrain can help determine winning strategies. Use these tools to your advantage!

① Hold down on any unit or terrain to view intel options.

② Tap an icon to view attack, movement, or terrain details.

FOG OF WAR:

Fog of war only allows you to see what your units can see based on their vision range. Some terrain types can affect a unit's vision.

With Fog of War enabled, units can only see enemy units within their Vision Range.

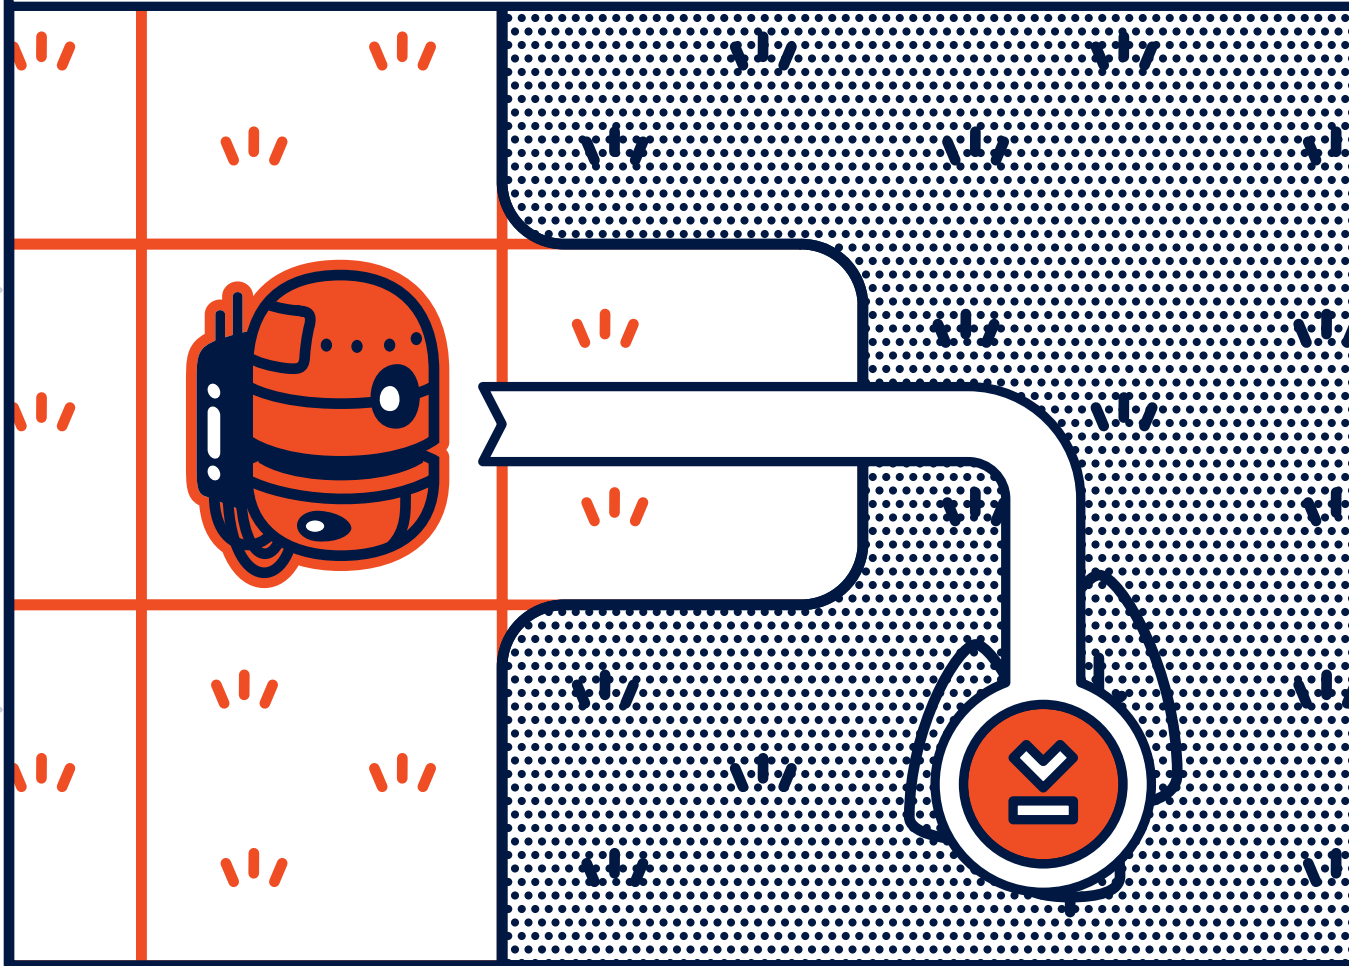

Moving a unit will update its vision.

TRAPS:

If you run into an enemy unit in a fog of war simulation, the unit's turn will end.

But be careful where you move!

Running into a hidden enemy will stop you in your tracks!
